Legislative Report Shows Importance of A-Energy

Commission Headed by Sen. Glen Jones Outlines Impact on Civilian Use

The importance of atomic energy to the citizens of Illinois in the fields of power generation, medicine and public health, industrial applications, and agriculture and food preservation are described in the Report of the Atomic Power Investigating Commission to the Illinois State Legislature today.

The commission, created by the Sixty-Ninth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, was headed by State Senator Glen O. Jones of Raleigh, a practicing attorney in Harrisburg.

The commission was directed by the legislature to make a thorough investigation and study of the economic and social impact that civilian use of atomic power may have on Illinois citizens and any other related issues.

Composition of Commission

It was composed of three members of the General Assembly, three members representing industry, three representing labor, three representing science and technology, and, as ex-officio members, the state directors of public health, public welfare and the Civil Defense Agency.

Dr. Robert J. Hasterlik of the Argonne Cancer Research Hospital, Chicago, was vice chairman and Rep. Harry D. Lavery of Chicago the secretary.

The report gives nine general conclusions which were reached due to rapid advances which have taken place and which may be expected to the future in the general field of Atomic Energy, then explains these conclusions in greater detail.

General Conclusions

The nine general conclusions:

1. Experimental and demonstration plants for the production of electric power from the atom have proved their feasibility.

2. Hundreds of industries and research facilities in Illinois are now using radio isotopes in new research and production processes, and this benefit should be publicized and expanded.

3. Preservation of agriculture products and development of improved plant strains have been found practicable, using atomic radiations. Further research and development should be stimulated in this field.

4. The increasing use of radioactivity presents a potential hazard to the health of the citizens of Illinois and it is this commission's opinion, as a first step toward the proper assessment of the magnitude of the problems of the future, that the State Department of Public Health be empowered to require registration of sources of ionizing radiations in Illinois.

These include machines and radioactive materials, whether artificially produced or naturally occurring, which produce radiations in quantities greater than levels to be defined in regulations to be (Continued on Page Three)

To Make Life Better

Development of Atomic Energy Will Affect Daily Living: Jones

"The development of atomic energy, being an entirely new field of human experience, is one which possibly may have a tremendous effect upon the daily lives of people in the future," Sen. Glen O. Jones, chairman of the legislative commission which released its Atomic Energy report today, stated.

"Since there has been no previous experience in the use of this type of energy, it is hard to predict the total future effect but, in order for atomic energy to be a useful part of our economy, it should be accepted as a new and useful tool to make human life better," he continued.

Sen. Jones declared that atomic energy for civilian use does not present any radical change in our way of living or in our methods of production.

"It is a fact that atomic energy may be used to produce electric current and, while the use of atomic fuel is a new and strange method of creating power, the strangeness consists only in the fuel itself because it is essentially merely a substitution of the heat of nuclear fission for the heat of burning coal or other fuels," he continued.

"The generators, methods of transmission and all other activi-

Bill Hawkins Joins Robertson-Ghent Insurance Sales Force

Bill Ghent, of the Robertson-Ghent Insurance Agency, announced today that W. T. "Bill" Hawkins, son of the late Willis Hawkins of Harrisburg, had joined the sales force of the agency.

Hawkins, who now lives at 325 South Granger, just recently returned to this area from Michigan, where he served as a claims adjuster for General Motors for a period of six years, and he feels that this experience should serve him in good stead in his new position with Robertson-Ghent.

House Elected to Fill Supreme Court Vacancy

Canada Suggests Four-Point Program for the Middle East

Compromise Includes Withdrawal by Israel, Rule by UN Commissioner

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Canada suggested a four-point program for the Middle East today, including Israel's withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and appointment of a United Nations commissioner for the disputed area.

Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson put this compromise proposal informally before the General Assembly.

—A firm pledge by Israel and Egypt to observe scrupulously their 1949 armistice agreement, which would mean prohibition of any form of aggression or belligerent acts, among other things.

—Deployment of the U. N. Emergency Force on both sides of the 1949 armistice demarcation line to assist in the prevention of raids from either the Egyptian or Israeli side.

—Dispatch of UNEF to the Gulf of Aqaba to maintain quiet and prevent conflict and a guarantee against interference with "innocent passage" or the exercise of belligerent rights in that strategic waterway.

—Withdrawal of Israeli military and civilian forces from the Gaza Strip—which belongs neither to Israel nor Egypt—with UNEF taking over and Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld appointing a U. N. commissioner for Gaza.

The proposal came as backstage negotiations continued between Hammarskjöld and Israeli Ambassador Abba S. Eban. Eban, armed with instructions from Premier David Ben-Gurion, saw Hammarskjöld twice Monday and planned to continue their talks today.

Reports were current here that the Israeli Knesset parliament had approved a similar four-point program backed by Ben-Gurion. This reported program called for abandonment of Israel's civilian administration, appointment of a U. N. commission, a guarantee that Gaza would not revert to Egyptian control, a point skirted by Pearson and Israeli insistence on freedom of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Mt. Vernon Man Dies in Accident

FAIRFIELD, Ill. (UP)—Sherman M. Davis, 44, Mount Vernon was killed Monday night when a car skidded off a wet pavement and overturned near here.

The driver, Henry B. Kirby, 38, Mount Vernon, was injured seriously.

State police said the accident happened four miles east of Fairfield on Ill. 15.

Dairy Farmers' Strike Threatens To Cut Off Milk to New York Area

NEW YORK (UP)—Fear of violence threatened today to force milk producers into unwilling support of a dairy farmers' strike that could cut the flow of milk to 12 million consumers in the New York metropolitan area.

Dynamiting, shooting, threats and incidents of violence were reported Monday night in the three-state region which comprises the New York milkshed area.

An explosion rocked the home of Clarence Stanton in Wantage, N. J. Stanton, a member of the United Milk Producers of New Jersey, which ignored the boycott started Sunday by the 3,200-member tri-state Master Dairy Farmers Guild, delivered milk as usual Monday.

Five Men Arrested

No one was injured by the stick of dynamite, allegedly thrown from a speeding automobile, which blew up Stanton's front lawn, but he said he would not deliver milk today.

In Orange County, in Upstate New York, five men were arrested by state police at Slate Hill Monday night for allegedly firing on a tractor-trailer carrying milk to New York City.

Police said a 30-30 rifle bullet ripped into the truck as it was traveling toward New York on Route 17. The driver, Thurston Bryden, of Deposit, N. Y., was not injured.

Violence and incidents of milk dumping were reported most frequently in Orange County. Gov. Averell Harriman ordered state troopers to reinforce the deputies of Sheriff George Bullis at Goshen.

Some 7,000 of 45,000 dairymen in northern New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania which comprises the milkshed, were estimated to have joined the strike started by the guild Sunday.

The Rev. John W. Dorney, executive director of the guild, predicted that 35,000 farmers would join the strike by the end of the week. He said the dairymen would hold out for a raw milk price of $5.75 a hundredweight, or about 12 cents a quart.

The Federal Metropolitan Milk Marketing Administration had set a price of $4.57 a hundredweight for New York in January. The New Jersey office of milk industry set $5.12 as the price for that state.

The tentative Senate report would call on the FCC to reach an early decision on the technical merits of these systems and its legal powers in the matter.

However, the report says that pay-as-you-see TV should be submitted to reasonable tests and could not be tolerated if it threatens the success of the existing TV system.

The chief supporters of subscription television at Senate committee hearings last year were the Zenith Radio Corp., the International Telemeter Corp. and the Skiatron Corp. All have developed subscription systems.

Opponents of the proposal included the existing TV networks, the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters and Motion Picture Exhibitors.

Senate Group to Vote on Trial Run for Pay-As-You-See Television

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee plans to vote Wednesday on whether to call for a large scale trial run of pay-as-you-see TV programs.

A majority of the committee was expected to approve the proposal. A tentative draft of a report containing that recommendation already has been prepared by the committee staff and distributed to its members.

Unless followed by legislation approved by Congress, the committee's decision would be merely a recommendation to the Federal Communications Commission. The FCC so far has not acted on petitions asking for a test of subscription television.

In Limited Areas

If a test program should be launched, it could eventually have a great impact on the TV industry. But at the outset, pay-as-you-see TV would be available only in limited areas.

Under the proposed plan, TV

Republican Wins Over Hanagan By 12,000 Votes

Will Complete Unexpired Term of Late Justice Maxwell

By United Press

Byron O. House of Nashville, Ill., was elected Supreme Court justice to complete the unexpired term of his brother-in-law, the late Ralph Maxwell.

House, 54, swept to victory Monday on the Republican side of the ballot by some 12,000 votes over his Democratic opponent, Frank P. Hanagan, of Benton, in a special first judicial district election.

With all but one of the 701 precincts in, House polled 51,419 votes to Hanagan's 39,676.

The Circuit Court judge and former Washington County state's attorney captured 19 of the district's 24 counties and made history by sweeping all 24 precincts in his home county.

House credited his victory to the Republican organization, but denied he was a "handpicked" candidate of Gov. Stratton.

"I tried at all times to keep my campaign on the level befitting the office," he said in a victory speech, "but I was sorely tempted to start chopping away."

Will Be Sworn In March 11

House said that although his opponent kept hammering away at the fact the election had been called for an unusual time, he would have preferred to have run during the regular June judicial elections when he might have had the assistance of other Republican judges seeking election.

House won all counties except Franklin, Gallatin, Hamilton, Wabash and White. Hanagan piled up his greatest margin in his home county, Franklin, winning 5,944 to 3,232.

Judge House won 3-1 in Washington county, 3,408 to 1,101, and captured St. Clair county, 10,224 to 8,177.

House had served as circuit judge since last July, when William Juergens, Chester, was elevated to a federal judgeship.

The new justice will be sworn in March 11 by Chief Justice Ray I. Klingviel, East Moline. That afternoon, memorial services will be held for Maxwell, also of Nashville, who died last Aug. 29. House will serve out the final three years of the term.

Who Crushed Hitler?

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

In the process of hoisting Joseph Stalin back on his old pedestal, Russian Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev is now crediting his once-reviled master with crushing the Nazis in World War II.

Even though he is talking of the same man the Soviet press not long back charged with failure to prepare Russia for Hitler's attack, even though we know this whole business is mainly for home consumption, it would seem unwise to let these fresh assertions go unchallenged by our own information agencies.

The legend of Russian might already is exaggerated to the point where it sows unnecessary fears in many hearts.

The distortion can only grow if the Kremlin is allowed to re-float the fantasy that Stalin—and Russia—conquered Hitler.

The truth is that without American help in many forms, principally in motorized equipment, the Soviet armies probably would have been rolled back across the Volga to the Ural mountains or beyond into Asia.

Russia had two great commodities with which to fight World War II:

Almost unlimited manpower and vast areas of space which it could trade to the Nazis in exchange for time.

With its paralyzing winters tossed into the bargain, the Russians were able to stand the Germans off until our aid and their own economic and military recovery gave them the substance for a real counter-offensive.

But the real crusher against Hitler did not come until the Western allies had launched a second front in France and begun deep thrusts toward Germany's western borders.

No wartime analyst looking at the facts would pretend for a moment that Russia did not make a big contribution to the final demise of Hitler. The combat on the eastern front chewed up hundreds of divisions of Nazi fighting men.

But always standing behind the Russian forces as they drove Hitler westward was the vital aid supplied by America and Britain.

Economic experts tell us that at the close of World War II the United States was producing more war equipment than Britain, Russia, France and Germany combined.

The conquest of Hitler was truly a massive joint effort. But it was we who developed the industrial might without which no combination of military energies could likely have succeeded.

Coal by the Squirt

This country already has undergone several transportation revolutions, and it may be in for still another.

In eastern Ohio a 108-mile pipeline has started to carry a regular flow of coal (mixed with water and crushed to form slurry) from a strip mine directly to a retail outlet on Lake Erie's southern shore.

If this frankly experimental line works out to be practical both technically and economically, the idea may win wide adoption not only for the shipment of coal but for transport of such other raw materials as iron ore (in pellet form), crushed limestone, pulpwood and whatever else might be borne along in a liquid mixture.

On paper at least, substantial savings would seem possible from this kind of handling. The big question would appear to be whether in the long run the cost of preparing the fluid mixture of solid materials and water will prove lower than the charges that go with conventional handling and shipment by other means.

If it does, then this new revolution may really take hold. And that could mean new problems for the important rail and trucking industries. Few revolutions are unmixing blessings.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Premier Mollet Will Emphasize European Unity And Europe; For First Time In History Premier Germany And France Have Genuine Peace; Ike's Lease-Purchase Building Program Is Stymied.

WASHINGTON. — When Premier Guy Mollet of France sits down with President Eisenhower for the talks which Secretary Dulles so long postponed for fear of antagonizing the Arabs, he will be setting two new records.

Record No. 1—He will have continued in office longer than any other postwar French premier. If he reaches the date of March 15, as he undoubtedly will, he's already been in office 13 months—longer than any other postwar premier except Henri Queuille.

Record No. 2—More important, Mollet comes to Washington at a time when France has no problems with Germany for the first time in 100 years.

Three wars have started on the continent of Europe because of French-German rivalry—the Franco-Prussian War, World War I, and World War II.

Today all questions between France and Germany have been settled, and the two men who govern them, Mollet and Chancellor Adenauer, genuinely like each other.

This leads to the two main points Mollet will emphasize in his talks with Eisenhower. They are:

1. A united Europe.
2. Eur-Africa.

For years, Mollet has been preaching a united Europe. The seeds of that idea were planted when he was a small boy in Arras near the Belgian border in World War I and watched his town get shot up, bombarded, beaten to a pulp first by the German armies, then by the Allied armies, then by the Germans.

COOPERATION OF AFRICA

Later he became mayor of Arras, later chairman of the European Assembly at Strasbourg; also a member of the European Coal and Steel Community, which has laid the foundation for European economic unity.

Mollet has been a tough and open critic of Dulles' Suez policies. But there is one thing he can thank Dulles for. France and England have been so sore at the United States, they have worked harder at European unity. With the American alliance disrupted, they realize the importance of getting along among themselves.

Premier Mollet will outline to Eisenhower his plans for putting European cooperation to work in Eur-Africa.

Recent French oil exploration shows vast oil deposits in the Sahara, enough to make Europe independent of King Saud and the Near East. Mollet wants to develop these in cooperation with Germany, Belgium, Italy, and western Europe. He also wants to make Africa part of the European economic community through French and German capital, Italian labor, American and German machinery, French administrative know-how.

Note — The point Mollet will probably argue most vigorously with Eisenhower is that Nasser has got to go. There can be no peace in the Near East while Nasser continues to stir up the Moslem world. Mollet will point out that the Cairo radio is the only radio station reaching all the Near East 24 hours a day in 32 languages and dialects, constantly preaching distrust of the West and friendship with Russia.

LEASE-PURCHASE FLUNKS

The much-vaunted lease-purchase building program is bogged down much more than the public has ever dreamed. "Lease-purchase" is the plan to construct government buildings with private money, then lease them to Uncle Sam for 25 years, after which they become government property.

The idea was conceived by budget-balancers in order to prevent the outlay of government funds for capital expenses, and thereby balance the budget.

However, here are the unpleasant figures on what happened: Since the lease-purchase program started in July 1954, 149 projects have been approved at a cost of $766,000,000. But only one has been completed—a post office at Rock Island, Ill.

Congressman Robert E. Jones of Scottsboro, Ala., will expose all this today or tomorrow. He will also propose that the government go back to the simple system used for 170-odd years, of appropriating government money to build post offices and other buildings.

Chief reason the lease-purchase plan hasn't worked is because of tight money. Banks and insurance companies aren't willing to put up the money to private builders unless they get more than 5 per cent interest, and a rate above 5 per cent for government loans is considered unreasonable. The Treasury now pays around 3 per cent; used to pay between 1 and 2 per cent.

Congressman Jones, incidentally, estimates that the 149 buildings projects which have been ok'd but not built, would finally cost the taxpayer $1,500,000,000 instead of the $766,000,000 bid. This is because taxes and interest payments during the 25-year period before the government inherits the buildings would have doubled the cost. Under the time-honored system of appropriating government money for government building, as practiced since the days of George Washington, no taxes and no interest are paid.

MOLLET-GO ROUND

Premier Mollet once taught English literature, also wrote a book on English grammar. He speaks English with a heavy accent, and when talking about Egypt recently some Americans thought he was talking about "Jeeps." . . . He was fired as a schoolteacher for union activity in 1932 after which he became head of the National Teachers Union. . . . Head of the Socialist party, Mollet has been in politics most of his life. He talks leftist when he's out of power, practices nonleft policies when in power. His has been a generally middle-of-the-road government. . . . Captured by the Germans in World War II, Mollet was repatriated as a prisoner and immediately joined the French underground. . . . He went to Moscow last year but refused to leave the Atlantic Alliance. . . . getting up at 7 a. m., he works about 18 hours a day, seldom sees his wife and family. Fifty-one years old the French premier looks mild and gentle, but is about the toughest statesman Ike will confer with this year.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Be still and know that I am God.

—Psalms 46:10.

Psychologists agree that the sub-conscious mind is essentially limitless in wisdom. Christ called it the Kingdom of Heaven. We can get much guidance by cultivation of the inner kingdom which is God's voice.

Relaxing... Across America!

Behind them are the majestic mountain roadways of Southern California and the picturesque desert drive through Arizona.

And ahead lie the broad highways of Texas . . . the scenic roads that wind through Oklahoma and Missouri . . . and the great Midwestern turnpikes that lead to the Eastern Seaboard.

What's it like to spend the better part of a week in a 1957 Cadillac?

Well, first of all, there is the restfulness a Cadillac provides. The car is so incredibly smooth and quiet and comfortable that even the longest journey is an occasion for glorious relaxation.

And for the lucky gentleman in the driver's seat, there is the added reward of Cadillac's brilliant new performance.

In fact, the car is so nimble and eager, so responsive and alert that day's end will usually find them well beyond their morning's destination!

And then there will be the many other Cadillac virtues to enhance the pleasure of their journey . . .

. . . its vast areas of vision to give them the full panorama of America's great beauty and grandeur

. . . its extraordinary safety and dependability to add to their contentment and peace of mind

. . . and its remarkable operating economy to remind them how practical their odyssey is.

So there they are—seeing our wonderful land from the finest vantage point on the American road: through the windshield of a 1957 Cadillac!

Of course, you don't have to travel 3,000 miles in this newest "car of cars" to realize why its owners call it "the greatest of all Cadillacs."

The evidence is in our showroom now—and an hour at the wheel will tell you the whole story.

John Murphy Addresses Harrisburg Woman's Club

American Citizenship was the theme for a most interesting program presented Monday afternoon by the Harrisburg Woman's club.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, chairman of the program, introduced John A. Murphy, assistant county superintendent of schools, who emphasized the importance of education and gave statistics about pupils who are now in school. He stated that in the larger schools there are naturally more problems, but a recent survey of public school teachers of America shows that 95 per cent of school students are well behaved and the greatest majority of boys and girls are not juvenile delinquents as some adults of this day tend to believe.

Bill Bottomley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, a student at the Harrisburg Township high school, played two cornet solos, accompanied by music director, John Schork.

Mrs. Johnson then presented Mrs. Clarence Bosket who gave the meditation, taking her theme from an article by Dorothy Thompson, "You Can Help America."

The business session followed with reports being given by Mrs. Hudson Mugge, treasurer, and Mrs. Hugh Walker, secretary. Announcements were made and a nominating committee chosen to select names of new officers for next year.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. W. Myers, Mrs. E. B. Webster and Mrs. W. H. Upchurch.

There were two tables in play, one of bridge, and one of pinocle. High scores were made by Miss Jane Rice and Mrs. Harry Flanders. Prizes were awarded by the committee.

There was no business of consequence. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. H. Arensman, March 21; and Mr. Schork will entertain with his singers.

Van Doren Fails To Shake Blonde In Television Quiz

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren, with a huge chunk of his $143,000 TV winnings riding on the line, will try to shake loose a brainy blonde on his next TV outing in shooting for the giddiest heights in quiz history.

The skinny, 31-year-old Columbia College instructor faced off against Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, a Manhattan attorney, Monday night in two rounds of play on NBC-TV's "Twenty One." Each game ended in a tie, the third such deadlock for Van Doren and Mrs. Nearing in two weeks.

Under the rules of the show, the stakes mount higher after each tie game. Next time out, Van Doren and the 30-year-old Mrs. Nearing will match off at $2,000 per point. That fourth round of play could see Van Doren win or lose as much as $42,000.

A loss would deduct that much from Van Doren's total winnings and automatically bounce him off the program. A win of $42,000, however, would give him $185,000, by far the largest prize in TV annals.

Mrs. Nearing and Van Doren played their first tie Monday night at $1,000 per point on questions that centered around "world cities" and "France."

After each scored 21 points, they played another round with queries based on "classical composers" and "vice presidents." The stakes were $1,500 per point.

Report Shows Importance of A-Energy

Regarding Compensation Act

5. The definition of "extra-hazardous" employment in the Illinois Workmen's Compensation Act should be amended to include any enterprise making use of radioactivity or machines producing ionizing radiations.

6. The present statutes of limitation on both common law and Workmen's Compensation claims for injuries resulting from exposure to ionizing radiation should be extended to five years.

7. A new legislative interim commission should be created by the 70th General Assembly to continue the study undertaken by this commission, and the personnel of this new commission should represent the same areas of interest represented on this commission, with the addition of representation from the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Labor, the Illinois Commerce commission and the insurance industry.

8. A further study should be made to determine whether the Illinois Occupational Diseases act should be made compulsory for enterprises using or producing ionizing radiations.

9. A further study should be made of means to expand interest in the physical sciences in the secondary schools and for providing college scholarships or other incentives to study in the fields of mathematics and the physical sciences.

Report Illustrated

The report, printed in booklet form by The Daily Register Commercial Department, is illustrated with photographs and charts. The cover picture shows the plaque on the west stands of Stag Field, University of Chicago, which states:

"On December 2, 1942, man achieved here the first self-sustaining chain reaction and thereby initiated the controlled release of nuclear energy."

The report carries five comprehensive sections, prepared by commission members who are experts in their respective fields.

Titus G. LeClair of Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago, prepared Section I, Atomic Power. Section II, Industrial Applications, was prepared by Dr. J. Robert Downing of Cook Research Laboratory, Skokie, Illinois; Section III, Medicine and Public Health, by Dr. Hasterlik; Section IV, Agriculture and Food Preservation, by Haldone A. Leedy of the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, and Section V, Legislation and Education, by Professor George T. Frampton of the University of Illinois, Urbana.

LeClair's Conclusions

Mr. LeClair, in his conclusions, says the use of nuclear fuel probably will not reduce demands for coal, oil or gas; the advent of nuclear power will promote many new industries and will not create unemployment but will create a need for more highly-trained personnel.

Dr. Downing states that "because of the importance of these techniques (in nuclear physics), it appears appropriate that the State of Illinois should provide some measure of control over this newly-recognized, and very useful industrial tool."

Dr. Hasterlik, in his section, says it was the opinion of the commission that "as a first step toward the proper assessment of the magnitude of the problems of the future, the State Department of Public Health be empowered to require the registration of all sources of ionizing radiations in the state, both machines and artificially-produced or naturally-occurring radioactive materials in quantities greater than levels to be defined later by health department regulations."

No Food Hazard Seen

Writing on Agriculture and Food Preservation, Mr. Leedy summarizes that no hazard is observed to date in the consumption of products which have been irradiated, although a proper state agency should remain continually alert to the development of a possible hazard. This may well take the form of inspection and control of consumable products in a fashion similar to the control exercised by pure food and drug agencies, he stated.

Professor Frampton's section on Legislation and Education reports that there are no positive requirements in the curricula of schools that encourage pupils to take mathematics or physical sciences and that it is the opinion of the Commission that development of this new field will require a large number of specifically skilled people, that there apparently will be a tremendous shortage, getting worse all the time.

Steps should be taken to encourage students to prepare themselves to work in this new field, and since schools are under state control, it continues, the burden of providing necessary education rests upon the state.

His section concludes:

"This Commission believes that careful study should be made during the next two years, in conjunction with other state agencies, agencies of other states, federal officials, educators, and industrial leaders as to what program could be adopted by the State of Illinois to improve this educational deficiency in the curriculum of the Illinois schools and to help remove these obstacles to the development of atomic energy for peaceful purposes in the state and nation."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diessenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

So many people seem to be listening without hearing that we wonder what has happened. Children pay no attention to their teachers or to their parents. Congregations dream through sermons. Employees fail to know what their supervisors have told them. Readers do not know what they have read.

Are people preoccupied? Are they bored? Do they feel that everything will take care of itself? Many questions are asked. Few answers seem to offer a corrective device.

In any case we are guilty of inattention. We have steered ourselves not to become concerned about the seriousness of conditions which surround us. The results are not good. Children are not learning as much as they ought to learn. Accidents happen which could have been avoided.

We must accept the scriptural advice: "He that hath ears let him hear."

The Code of Hammurabi was discovered in 1901.

Senate Votes to Set Up Committee To Coordinate Bills on Judgeships

SPRINGFIELD — The Senate today gave final passage to a bill providing a fourth circuit judge for the circuit including Sangamon County.

The Senate then adopted a resolution already approved in the House to set up a special joint committee to study and coordinate a host of other bills providing for additional circuit judgeships.

The House had previously passed the bill to give the 7th Circuit, which includes Sangamon, Scott, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin and Morgan counties, a fourth circuit judge.

Gov. William G. Stratton had recommended the fourth judge for the 7th Circuit because the state capital is in the circuit and many Supreme Court tests of legislation originate in the Circuit Court here.

However, a flurry of other bills were introduced to provide additional judges in other circuits, and administration leaders suggested action on them should be delayed pending action on the governor's recommendation for a complete overhaul of the judicial system.

The other bills were delayed and the committee set up after House Judiciary Committee Chairman Robert L. Burdick (R-Peoria) said the Legislature appeared to be getting "judge happy."

Other bills introduced would provide additional judges for the Madison-St. Clair County area, DuPage County, Tazewell County, and the Winnebago, Lake, McHenry and Boone county area. These bills have been held up pending recommendations by the special committee.

The Senate also held a committee-of-the-whole hearing on an emergency 70-million-dollar appropriation for the highway division. Sponsors said the extra money was needed so Illinois could take full advantage of federal aid matching funds which are available if Illinois will put up its share of the money.

Eisenhower and Mollet Confer to Rebuild Strained Relations

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet got down to work today on rebuilding strained Franco-American relations.

Mr. Eisenhower and Mollet conferred in the President's office at the White House shortly after another visiting French official, Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, began conferences with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Mollet pledged on his arrival Monday that "we are going to put our hearts, our minds and our full strength to achieving the peaceful and just purposes that are common to our two republics."

Suez Invasion Harmful
Relations between the United States and France hit a postwar low last fall when France and Britain invaded Egypt without first conferring with this government. The invasion strained badly the formerly close ties among the "Big Three" western allies.

Only recently, after the British-French withdrawal from Egypt, did Mr. Eisenhower agree to meet with Mollet and the new British prime minister, Harold Macmillan. The President will confer with Macmillan in a separate meeting in British Bermuda March 21-24.

"The purpose of these two meetings is to get Big Three confidence back on the tracks," one official said.

Cloak and Dagger

Russian-Born Film Producer Is Mystery Man Who Met with Spy Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — A Russian-born Hollywood movie producer and music director was identified Monday as the mysterious individual who kept a series of cloak-and-dagger international rendezvous with three accused members of a Soviet espionage ring.

Boris Morros, 62, a naturalized American citizen who has been living abroad for the past six years, was named by the government as the person mentioned in 14 overt acts involving Jack Soble, a New York brush importer, his wife, Myra, and Jacob Albam, a foreman for a Brooklyn tea and spice company.

Chief Asst. U. S. Atty. Thomas B. Gilchrist Jr., who identified Morros at a hearing in Federal Court, indicated that the former child musical prodigy was being kept in seclusion, but said he would be available as a key government witness when the Sobles and Albam are brought to trial.

But he declined to say whether the portly producer was a former Communist who had defected, an American counterespionage or "double agent" working for both the United States and Soviet governments. Indications were that Morros, who won his greatest fame through the film "Carnegie Hall," had acted as an American undercover agent, assigned to obtain evidence against the Soviet spy net disclosed last month with the arrest of the Sobles and Albam.

The Sobles and Albam are charged with conspiring to steal U. S. government defense secrets for transmission to Russia. If convicted, one or all of the defendants could be executed. Several former employees of the Soviet embassy at Washington have been identified as members of the espionage ring. But, because of diplomatic immunity, they are not liable to prosecution.

Portland Reporters Say Teamster Officials Tried to Take Over Gov't

WASHINGTON — Two Portland, Ore., reporters told Senate racketeering investigators today that Teamster Union officials conspired with racketeers, gamblers and the district attorney in an attempt to take over the Portland city government.

The reporters, Wallace Turner and William Lambert, who wrote a prize-winning series of dispatches for the Portland Oregonian on their own investigation on Teamster Union activities, said the Senate's hand-picked committee on racketeering can uncover even more of the "disgraceful condition" which they said afflicts Portland. They said local government officials lack power to clean it up.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said in an opening statement launching the year's biggest congressional inquiry that the underworld is muscling into control of unions and employer associations. He said the first series of hearings will show how "unscrupulous union leaders" ally themselves with "equally unscrupulous politicians" to control and operate organized vice in Portland.

Turner said racketeer James B.

Truman Ends His Vacation

MIAMI — Former President Truman, tanned and full of vigor after a two-week Florida vacation, leaves today in his private railroad car for Independence, Mo.

Mr. Truman ended his holiday by collecting $40,000 at a $50-a-plate lunch here Monday for the Truman Memorial Library in his home town.

Mr. Truman, who will be 73 in May, got plenty of sunshine in his vacation in the Florida Keys, despite taking time out to make four speeches, one a major address on foreign policy.

He went deep sea fishing at least three times but confessed that "Bess," Mrs. Truman, "Caught all the fish."

Elkins became "disenchanted" with fellow conspirators in Portland and spilled the story of their activities. He said Elkins would testify in the hearings.

McClelland and Subcommittee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy have said other witnesses will include union leaders, public officials, gamblers, bootleggers and prostitutes.

Army, Guard Delay Plan for 3-Months Duty

WASHINGTON — Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) announced today that the Army and National Guard have agreed to postpone until next Jan. 1 the Army's order requiring six months of active duty for young Guard recruits.

The Army has ordered six months active duty for all new Guardsmen effective April 1. Under the agreement announced by Brooks, this would be delayed for nine months for recruits between 17 and 18 1-2 years old.

For Guard recruits over 18 1-2, six months training will be required—as originally announced by the Army—starting April 1. This would be followed by 5 1-2 years in the Guard, in ready reserve status.

Brooks announced "full agreement" on the compromise at a meeting of his House Armed Services subcommittee. The group approved the agreement in an executive session and Brooks said it will be presented to the full Armed Services Committee.

The agreement came after an Army-Guard feud which produced a charge by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson that the Guard had been used as a "draft-dodging business" during the Korean war. The Guard denounced Wilson's charge as a "lie" and President Eisenhower said it was "very unwise."

Under the plan, 11 weeks training would be required for the younger recruits beginning April 1. They could volunteers for six months training if they wished.

On Jan. 1, the 11-week program would be discontinued and all new Guard recruits would be required to serve six months on active duty.

Governor to Name New State Fair Manager Soon

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Stratton said today he will name a successor to ousted State Fair General Manager Strother G. Jones "probably within a week."

New fuel, meanwhile, was added to the fire of charges and counter-charges surrounding Jones' dismissal from the $8,000 a year job he has held for three years.

State Rep. G. William Horsley (R-Springfield) said he believed the facts "justify his firing. In fact the people of the state owe Gov. Stratton and State Agriculture Director Stillman J. Stanard a debt of gratitude for taking this action."

Jones had charged in disclosing his ouster Monday that Stanard had been out to "get" his job and that he was pressured by Horsley, political sponsor of some state fairgrounds employees.

Horsley shot back that Jones had mismanaged State Fair appropriations, made purchases without bids and "constantly violated written orders issued" by his superior, Stanard.

"He refuses to speak to or have anything to do with his chief of police, his groundskeeper, and others and the morale of employees is so low that it has not only affected the efficient operation of the fair but is grossly unfair to people who have to work under such conditions," Horsley said.

Neither Stratton nor Stanard would comment on the firing.

Jones said he believed J. Ralph Peak, Winchester, was the man most likely to succeed him. Peak is Scott County Republican chairman and his wife Audrey, is chairman of women's activities for the GOP State Central Committee.

Identify Body Found In River

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — A missing tooth from a set of false teeth has led to positive identification of a man whose body was found floating in the Ohio River here last Thursday.

Alexander County Coroner Roy Keith said the man was Monroe Scott, 44, Paducah, Ky., who drowned March 12, 1956.

Keith said Scott's widow, Alene, had the tooth which had broken out not long before Scott drowned. A Paducah dentist who had made the plates confirmed they belonged to Scott.

Court Rules Against State Book Censorship

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court has struck down another state effort to limit what the public may see, hear and read.

In a unanimous ruling the nine justices invalidated a Michigan law banning distribution of books which contain obscene language or descriptions tending to corrupt youth.

The decision was one of 16 handed down Monday as retiring Justice Stanley F. Reed ended his 19-year career on the high court. The outpouring of opinions was the heaviest in recent memory.

In other opinions Monday the court: —Let stand a Pennsylvania court decision which denied news photographers the right to take pictures in courthouse corridors of persons on trial.

—Ruled 6-3 that state courts may admit as evidence blood samples taken from unconscious drivers suspected of being drunk.

The book involved in the Michigan case was "The Devil Rides Outside," by John H. Griffin, a blind war veteran of Mansfield, Tex. The story relates the experiences of an American musician studying at a French monastery who is torn between sensuality and his longing for a spiritual life.

Michigan had argued that in shielding youth from obscenity it was exercising its power to promote the general welfare.

"Surely this is to burn the house to roast the pig," Justice Felix Frankfurter said in his opinion.

Brennan Denies Calling Probe A 'Witch Hunt'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan Jr. denied today that he had referred to an investigation of communism by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) as "a Salem witch hunt."

Under drilling questioning by McCarthy, Brennan agreed with McCarthy that "communism is a conspiracy against the United States."

McCarthy's questioning of the Supreme Court justice, whose nomination is pending before the Senate, marked his return after a long absence to use of a congressional committee hearing as a forum for his fight against Reds or against those he considers soft toward communism.

Although he is not a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, the committee permitted McCarthy to question the justice at a hearing on his nomination.

As in former hearings involving communism where he presided, McCarthy clashed heatedly with Democratic committee members.

Committee members had to intervene before Brennan would give a direct answer to whether he considered communism "merely a political party or a conspiracy against the United States." At first, Brennan refused to answer because cases involving the issue are pending before the Supreme Court.

He gave his answer that it is a conspiracy after Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney made clear that the question was entirely apart from any pending case.

Stratton Signs SIU, Statehouse Appropriation Bills

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Stratton has signed into law the controversial $260,000 appropriation for the Statehouse Remodeling Commission and a $400,000 appropriation for Southern Illinois University.

The Statehouse Commission headed by Sen. Everett R. Peters (R-St. Joseph) came in for criticism during debate on the $260,000 bill because of a "palatial lounge" furnished for legislators.

The commission was given an original appropriation of slightly more than one million dollars, but reported it needed the extra $260,000 to finish its work.

Southern Illinois University asked for the emergency $400,000 appropriation to pay expenses incurred in taking in larger-than-expected enrollments.

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

Spartans Tie Hoosiers in Big Ten Race; Illinois Eliminates Ohio State, 79-72

CHICAGO — Michigan State joined Indiana today at the top of the Big Ten basketball scramble after scoring its ninth straight conference victory.

The Spartans, who walloped last place Wisconsin, 78-62, Monday night got an assist from state rival Michigan which came through with a narrow 87-86 decision over Indiana.

The results left both the Spartans and the Hoosiers with nine wins and three losses and set the stage for their showdown match at East Lansing, Mich. Saturday night.

In other games last night, Illinois won its seventh in 12 league starts with a 79-72 win over Ohio State to virtually eliminate the Buckeyes from title consideration, and Minnesota, aided by George Kline's team record of 40 points, overwhelmed Iowa, 102-81.

The loss for the Hoosiers ended a seven-game victory streak and robbed them of sole possession of the lead for the first time since they took over on Feb. 9.

Dees Scores 39 Points
Archie Dees, the Big Ten's leading scorer with a 25-point average, did his best for the Hoosiers, pumping in 39 points to better his previous personal season record of 37.

The Hoosiers led in the first half and came within a point near the end of the game. But a last-minute free throw by Pete Tillotson led the one-point decision for the Wolverines.

Rebound ace Johnny Green supplied the scoring punch in the Spartan victory and wound up in a tie for scoring honors with Wisconsin's Bob Litzew, each with 20 points. The Spartans were behind only intermittently in the first half.

but encountered no trouble after the intermission.

The Illini led most of the way in handing Ohio State its fourth defeat against eight wins and staged a final scoring spurt in the final eight minutes to preserve their lead. Don Ohl with 19 points was top scorer for Illinois and Frank Howard paced the Buckeyes with 23.

Kline's 40-point effort for the Gophers catapulted him from the league's seventh-ranking scorer to No. 4 and boosted his scoring average to 18.2 points per game. The victory kept Minnesota in a fourth place tie with Illinois.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

The best anyone could do in last week's "You Pick 'em" was six hits against four misses.

But four participants tied with a 6-4 mark: Bud Hamby and Rolie Moore of Harrisburg, Harold Fitts of Carrier Mills and George Starkey of Galatia had identical marks.

The Harrisburg victory over Mt. Vernon was the most complete upset and McLeansboro's win from Du Quoin ranked close.

Will put the game of "You Pick 'em" away until football time this fall. Basketball is down to tournaments and picking out ten tournaments to select the winners is a difficult task and not interesting enough. Once we get away from southern Illinois' tourneys interest isn't so great.

I have enjoyed this bit of by-play and hope you readers have also. Thanks to all you taking part.

We are giving serious thought to revising the game somewhat by this fall. Think it will be even more interesting than it has been the past few years.

The first Southern Illini conference basketball race finished only one basket away from a three-way tie in a four-team race.

Eldorado copped the title by taking a 66-65 decision from Metropolis Friday night. Had Metropolis won the game Eldorado, Metropolis and McLeansboro would have shared the top spot, with Johnson City at the bottom of the standing.

In this first conference race, with only Eldorado and McLeansboro playing home-and-home games and other teams playing each other only once in the league, a point system was devised to determine the league champion. The system provided for 10 points for each victory when a team was met just once and five points per victory in a home-and-home series.

Prior to Friday Eldorado had a victory over Johnston City worth 10 points and two wins from McLeansboro worth five points each, for a total of 20 points.

McLeansboro had won from both Johnston City and Metropolis and each win was worth 10 points as the teams met in single engagements. That gave McLeansboro 20 points also.

Metropolis owned 10 points as a result of beating Johnston City and a win over Eldorado would have added ten more points, for a total of 20.

But Eldorado won and the three-way tie didn't happen. Eldorado closed the league season with 30 points. McLeansboro with 20, Metropolis with 10 and Johnston City had none.

During the past season the Southern Illini members had a nice custom that probably will be carried over to other seasons.

Following each conference game, the home team was host to the visitors for a lunch and social get together in the school's cafeteria.

Sometimes in the heat of battle tempers flare and players will look on their opponents as a so-and-so. But meeting across a luncheon table, the boys find each other to be pretty nice guys after all.

It seems the Southern Illini conference officials have a fine idea.

The present Eldorado Township high school gymnasium probably has seen its last varsity basketball game. The gym, built in the early 1930's, was a fine structure 20 years ago, but was inadequate for the past several years.

A new, modern gym is now in the construction stage and should be ready long before the 1957-58 basketball season rolls around.

HAPPY ABOUT THE PAST, CONFIDENT OF THE FUTURE—These Carrier Mills Wildcats, with a fine 22-1 record, including two tournament championships, this season, gather around the first place trophies during the annual basketball banquet Monday evening. ## Carrier Mills Lions Entertain Basketball Players, Cheerleaders

Carrier Mills high school basketball players and cheerleaders were guests of the Carrier Mills Lions club at the annual athletic banquet Monday night. The affair was held in the Masonic temple and members of Rising Star chapter 717, O.E.S., served the meal.

Following the dinner a short program was held with Coach A. L. "Kayo" Willis introducing the basketball players and Mrs. June Priest, sponsor, introducing the cheerleaders.

Carl L. Dillow, CMCHS principal, was guest speaker and talked briefly on "Interscholastic Athletics," outlining the history of interscholastic athletics in Illinois.

Mr. Dillow stated that the history of athletics shows a constant trend toward limitations on athletics, which probably has been brought about by over-emphasis on sports in many places.

Praises IHSA
The first interscholastic athletic event in Illinois, the speaker stated, was about 1890 and in 1905 an organization was perfected to establish rules and by-laws for such contests.

In 1916 the Illinois High School Athletic Association was formed and in 1940 the organization became the Illinois High School Association as schools continued a program of inter-school contests that were non-athletic in nature.

"The IHSA has done a tremendous amount of work to protect the best interests of the youth of Illinois," Mr. Dillow declared.

Restrictions on athletic programs are the result of pressure from educators, who fear the over-emphasis being placed on sports programs and believe athletics are taking away from the real purpose of schools—scholastic achievement, it was stated.

Competition Necessary
Mr. Dillow does not favor a continued de-emphasis of athletics, but believes athletic programs must be built around scholastic achievement and that schools should provide a program that would include all students of the school.

He was critical of those who are against athletics because they create a competitive spirit. "Competition is necessary and a part of our everyday living. People who criticize athletics because they create competition are missing a point," Dillow declared.

The program opened with the invocation by Ed Shreffler of the Lions club and words of welcome by Lions President Harry McAttee. Group singing was led by Leighman Walker.

Miss Lorna Dallas, accompanied at the electric organ by Larry Edwards, entertained with a vocal solo and Larry played a medley

Rose Todd, Sue Hutson and Joyce Absher.

The school colors of Purple and Gold were used in table decorations and programs, completed under the direction of Mrs. Harold James of the Homemaking department and the two first place trophies won by the CMCHS eagles this season occupied a place of honor in the decorative scheme.

Results of Games In Church League

Final games of the regular church league basketball schedule were played Monday night, with five games completed.

Results: Junior league—First Baptist 28, McKinley Baptist 24; Intermediate league—First Baptist 59, North Willford 26, and McKinley Baptist 39, Dorrisville Baptist 28; Senior league—Dorrisville Social Brethren 45, First Baptist 35, and Presbyterian 28, Christian 24.

A single-elimination tournament, to be played early in March, is in the planning stage, but nothing definite has been announced.

Kefauver Orders Study of Anti-Trust Status of Pro Football

WASHINGTON — Sen. Estes Kefauver ordered a staff study of the anti-trust status of various professional sports today to determine possible action by this Senate Anti-Monopoly subcommittee.

The Tennessee Democrat acted in the wake of a 6-3 decision handed down Monday in which the U. S. Supreme Court refused to give professional football the immunity from anti-trust prosecution enjoyed by organized baseball.

"I will have the subcommittee staff look into the whole question and thoroughly research the background," Kefauver told the United Press. "Then the subcommittee, at an early meeting, can consider whether it should look into the situation further."

Kefauver, who played football for the University of Tennessee and captained its track team, expressed personal interest in the question. He said he plans to read the high court's football decision in full and added he has received some memos on the question of professional sports and anti-monopoly laws.

In Philadelphia, National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell said, "I usually thought all people had the same rights but if they're different according to the Supreme Court, then they're different."

Other comment from NFL owners was generally cautious, but Walter Wolfner, managing director of the Chicago Cardinals, expressed the thought uppermost in most minds when he stated: "Football can't live without the reserve list . . . if there's no reserve clause in football, there won't be any football, and there won't be any basketball or any other pro-sport either."

The reserve clause binds professional athletes to the teams with which they start their careers unless they are traded or "sold." The baseball reserve clause, similar but not identical to the football provision, was a central issue in the 1953 baseball case.
